ExpressCare Announces Grand Opening in Neptune, NJ Shoprite Special Guests to Include Phil Simms and Frank Bisignano

Cranbury, New Jersey, June 22, 2007 –ExpressCare, located in the ShopRite Supermarket at 2200 State Highway 66 in Neptune, NJ, will hold its grand opening on June 30, 2007 from 10:00 am-3:00 pm.

The official “ribbon cutting” will take place at 11:00 am and will include local dignitaries, in addition to a special guest appearance by Phil Simms, CBS Sports Commentator, Super Bowl XXI MVP and 15-year NFL veteran. Neil Shroff, Vice Chairman, is pleased to announce that Frank Bisignano, Chief Administrative Officer at JP Morgan Chase has joined the Executive Advisory Board for ExpressCare. “Mr. Bisignano, who is well known in the investment community, will provide strategic advice and expertise to the ExpressCare team” states Mr. Shroff.

ExpressCare, which has signed agreements with three ShopRite store owners to open retail health care centers in six supermarkets in New Jersey and southeast Pennsylvania this summer. ExpressCare believes that these health care centers address two health care issues facing most communities - access and affordability. ExpressCare clearly posts its scope of services and prices to make it simple for people to understand. Most services are under $39.00, and all locations will be open seven-days a week, including holidays.

ExpressCare brings 30 years of operational experience of providing unscheduled health care to retail health care. ExpressCare provides a convenient and private setting for customers to get the care they seek. A state-of-the-art, evidence-based medicine, electronic medical record (designed specifically for retail health care) will be used to ensure clinical protocols are followed, and allow customers accessibility to their individual clinical record. “It is our goal to make sure patients are seen by one of our Nurse Practitioners within 15 minutes of registering,” states Patricia Dempsey, APN-C, Director of Operations.

ExpressCare is a limited liability corporation dedicated to providing an environment for quality, affordable retail health care to be delivered. The management team has extensive experience managing the operations of multiple health care specialties, including primary care, urgent care, emergency medicine, and hospitalist programs; and are recognized leaders in the development of electronic medical records, health care business intelligence, professional fee coding, billing and collections and medical education programs and conferences.
